THE GRANT BOYS IN BLUE.

AIR—Red, White and Blue.

America, land of bright freedom,
No longer accursed by a slave,
When tyrants denounce, never heed them,
But up with the flag of the brave.
It shone o'er our ranks in dark danger,
When missiles of death 'round us flew,
To skulking and fear 'tis a stranger,
When borne by the Grant Boys in Blue.

CHORUS—When borne by the Grant Boys in Blue.
When borne by the Grant Boys in Blue.
To skulking and fear 'tis a stranger,
When borne by the Grant Boys in Blue.

When rebels our Union to sever,
Made war o'er the land and the seas,
Not an inch would we yield them, no never,
But threw our old flag to the breeze.
Around it the valiant quick rally,
Their fealty to freedom renew,
On the march, in the battle and sally,
Shone the flag of the Grant Boys in blue.
Shone the flag &c.

At Shiloh, at Vicksburg, at Lookout,
At Donelson, pelted by storm,
We bore it o'er rampart and redoubt,
Gave victory a lustre and form.
In the Wilderness, constant in battle,
Through weeks of dread conflict it flew,
'Twas seen in the midst of war's rattle,
Proudly borne by the Grant Boys in Blue.
Proudly borne, &c.

No fled I but as victors we bore it,
When Grant our great leader was there,
Richmond fell (only traitors deplore it),
Appomattox saw Lee in despair.
Grant and victory, nothing could sever,
Grant and victory, the boast of the true,
The army and navy forever,
Huzza for the Grant Boys in Blue.
Huzza for the Grant Boys in Blue, &c.

Now all who have fought for the nation,
Perilled life on the land or the sea,
Strike again for your country's salvation,
Follow Grant and the flag of the free
Gather 'round them again, in your might.
Though traitors should scowl at the view,
Once more put the graybacks to flight,
Three cheers for the Grant Boys in Blue.
Three cheers, &c.

FUNNY (?) ILLUSTRATION.

David Crawford, Esq., has the reputation of being an inimitable story teller and wag. Here is a specimen of the kind he indulged in the early days of rebellion: "I tell you three Southerners can whip five Northern men. They are skilled in war, we are not. There is only one way to get at them, let me demonstrate: A gentlemen had several children whom he employed a nurse to care for. One boy was extremely vicious and caused two or three nurses to give up their places rather than endure his insults. Another new one took the place. On first sight the boy interrogated, 'Are you my new nurse?' 'Yes,' replied the nurse. 'Well, you must get sugar plums and candy, or I'll pull your hair!' So it is with the South. They have been petted and spoiled and it is better to give them sugar plums and candy—let them have their own way!" How does that sound to-day? And how many voters is there craven enough to acknowledge the aspersion cast upon Northern soldiers by sending a cringing, toadying, dirt-eater of his stamp to the Halls of Congress, to be whipped and lashed about by Southern rebels? We want a man, not a tool!

FACTS FOR THE PEOPLE.

It is well to remember that the Government has reduced the principal of its debt, in addition to paying a large interest, $250,000,000. War claims, bounties, &c., have been paid to the amount of $100,000,000, which is really a reduction of the debt in that sum, making $350,000,000 of the principal paid in three years. This is paying off at the rate of $100,000,000 a year, a low estimate, at the same time paying every cent of interest according to contract. See Commissioner Wells' report for the correctness of our statement. At this rate twenty-five years would see us a people disenthralled, the burden of taxation gone, a credit preserved and our honor untarnished. How much better the policy of Right contrasted with that of Ruin in repudiating our pledges. Crawford, the Democratic nominee for Congress, favors the repudiation scheme. He believes the rebel war debt should be paid by the citizens of the North, that we should pension the rebel soldiers, their widows and orphans, that the soldiers of the Union were a "plundering, murdering mob of mercenaries!" It is in your power, voters of Greene, to stamp out the vile heresies of such doctrines. Remember that Democracy means Revolution! Frank Blair has said it, all rebeldom acquiesces. They have begun it already in West Virginia.

THE EFFECT.

Gold jumped 1½ per cent. on the day after the Kentucky election. A few more 'Democratic victories' and greenbacks will sell cord for cord. Every vote for repudiation is registered in the gold market.

NOT THE THING.

Northern Copperhead papers publish pretty generally the speeches of Pendleton, honey-coated for the laboring classes, but ignore altogether their orators of the South, Semmes, Toombs, Hampton, Cobb and others, who are stirring anew with fierce energy the boiling cauldron of civil war. Never in the South has the flame of Revolution been fanned more assiduously by these seditionists. But it is concealed from the Democrats of the North, carefully covered beneath the cry of "negro domination, radical tyranny, military despotism," etc. On a recent occasion Mr. Pendleton was wielding his rhetoric and sophistry in favor of Repudiation, before a Cincinnati audience, when a one-armed man stepped out on the platform and tapping him on the shoulder, said: "Them's my sentiments!" Turning quickly about, Pendleton said, "Ah! and you were a soldier!" "Yes," replied the one armed individual, "I was with Beauregard at Corinth!" Why can't our Northern Copperheads be as frank as they of the South? Why not put Toombs & Co., on their backs openly? S'imply because they know the North does not want war, and for them to publish these men's speeches would expose the whole scheme. They mean to rule or ruin! Remember the words of Frank Blair: "It is idle to talk of bonds or finances. The true issue is that the Southern State governments must be trampled into dust, the carpet-bag conventions dispersed," and the States turned over to the rebels. Remember that Crawford's idle prateing about bonds is not the thing. He is laboring to sell you out, Judas-like, for office, and to turn you over bound hand and foot to the men whom he declared "it was impossible for Northern men to whip!" How are you 'sugar plums and candy!'

WHO RATIFIES?

An exchange says, Raphael Semmes, the cowardly pirate who burned our unarmed merchant vessels on every sea, has announced his satisfaction with the nomination of Seymour and Blair. So has Toombs, the traitor Senator of 1861, so has Cobb, Mr. Buchanan's faithless Secretary of the Treasury, who deserted his post and perjured himself to take a position in the Rebel Government of Jeff. Davis; so has Albert Pike, whose Indians scalped our dead at Pea Ridge; so has Forrest, the Tennessee butcher; so has Beauregard, who urged the Rebel Goverment to put to death by the garrote its prisoners of war; so has the Rebel Gen. Preston, who left his post as a United States Minister to Spain, came home and drew his pay in gold from the Treasury that Cobb had impoverished, and then hastened to take a command in the Rebel army; so has Vance, late Rebel Governor of North Carolina, who declared a few days ago in a speech delivered to the Rebels of Richmond, that what the South lost by the overthrow of the rebellion, it would grain by the election of Seymour and Blair; so has Wade, Hampton who prophesies that the cause for which Jackson and Stuart died will yet be gained; so has Henry A. Wise, late a Rebel General, and so thoroughly devoted to the Rebellion, even in its death, that he scorns a pardon for his treason; and so has every Ku-Klux assassin in the South, who plies the trade of murder, and illuminates the darkness of midnight by the burnt log dwellings of Union men. Who shall say henceforth that the New York nominations have not been enthusiastically received?

THE GOLDEN RULE.

The Grant Republican platform proclaims that the public faith pledged to the Nation's creditors must be sacredly maintained, adding—in words that should be inscribed in letters of gold over every mantel:

"THAT THE BEST POLICY TO DIMINISH OUR BURDEN OF DEBT IS TO SO IMPROVE OUR CREDIT THAT CAPITALISTS WILL SEEK TO LOAN US MONEY AT LOWER RATES OF INTEREST THAN WE NOW PAY, AND MUST CONTINUE TO PAY SO LONG AS REPUDIATION, PARTIAL OR TOTAL, OPEN OR COVERT, IS THREATENED OR SUSPECTED."

KENTUCKY.

Kentucky, last Monday, elected a Democratic Governor by about fifty thousand majority. That is a poor show for 'the dark and bloody ground.' She ought to have given at least one hundred thousand. Nasby will have to migrate to Mississippi, it is evident that men of the Bigler stamp are getting too numerous at the "X Roads."

DEMOCRACY MEANS REVOLUTION.

If Democracy does not mean Revolution, what does it mean? All efforts to cloud the canvass by introducing new issues have failed. The lines of demarcation are drawn with wonderful distinctness. Financial questions, taxation and tariffs foreign and domestic economy, are subsidiary. There will be no serious trouble about paying the debt, when the time comes to pay it. We can trust the common sense of the country for that. Tariffs and taxation will right themselves in obedience to the immutable laws of supply and demand. The issue that transcends and absorbs all these is simply this: Shall we have a Revolution? A certain policy has been adopted. Whatever may be said about reconstruction; whatever may be its merits or demerits, it is now the supreme law of the land. The Fourteenth Article places the whole question of Reconstruction above the reach of any political party. Even give the Democracy their fullest triumph. Suppose it elects Mr. Seymour and a majority of the House, the Senate is Radical, and strong enough to veto any attempt to amend or destroy the work of Congress. The whole power of the Democratic party could not take the bar from a single Rebel, or place a bar upon a single negro. Nay, even in the small matter of the dispossession of office, a Democratic President would be powerless. He could not touch a Radical postmaster without the consent of a Radical Senate. He would be merely the minister of laws which he disapproved, and the Servant of a Senate that did not trust him. How then could the election of Seymour conduce to the advantage of the Democratic party? How could the New Administration carry out the wishes of its constituents? Simply by Revolution.

The Democratic party understands this, and to gain power is prepared to take the responsibility of revolution, even unto war. Remember the defiance of Frank Blair, which gave him the unanimous vote of the Democratic Convention. He knew the spirit to which he appealed. As a Union soldier and a renegade from the Union party, he could speak with more frankness and energy than a Copperhead like Vallandigham, or a secessionist like Hampton. "Gentleman," he said, "I know what you want. I know the spirit that moves you. You purpose revolution. You would like to see every carpet-bagger driven out of the South—every negro remanded to Slavery, every 'traitor' to the South banished from his home. Make me Vice President, and if it should please God to put me in the Presidency I will execute your work. As commander-in-chief of the army and navy, you can rely upon my fidelity and courage. I will issue a proclamation sustaining the Constitution and ordering the carpet-bag Government to disperse. In sixty days Warmoth, Bullock and Reed would be seeking shelter in Canada, and the nigger legislators would return to the shovel and the hoe." This is the bid which Gen. Blair made. The Democracy accepted it, and he ratified the acceptance by an additional letter, in which he repeated his promise.

This is the pledge of Gen. Blair; let us see what his followers think. The cowardly World gives due prominence to the eloquence of Isaiah Rynders and Richard O'Gorman, but it is silent about Toombs and Cobb and Hill and Hampton. It is not for us dwell upon this conspicuous dishonesty in journalism, this ignoring of the ablest and most honored leaders of the Democratic party. Gen. Hampton was better treated here during the Convention. Then he was an oracle. He was met, he says, with "cordiality and good will." The leaders, however, declared, according to Gen. Hampton, "their willingness to give us (the Rebels) everything we could desire, but they begged us to remember that they had a great fight to make at the North, and they therefore besought us not to load the platform with a weight that they could not carry against the prejudices which they had to encounter. Help them once to gain the power and then they would do their utmost to relieve the Southern States and restore to us the Union and the Constitution as it had existed before the War." This is the promise which Mr. Hampton received, and he added amid the cheers of a mob of Charleston Rebels that it, "is a policy that suits us, when the great Democratic party is pledged to the declaration that the Reconstruction acts are unconstitutional, revolutionary, and void. Especially when every member of the party, and the warmest are from the North, is ready to take it up and carry it out." Here, then, is evidence that the scheme of Gen. Blair, the revolutionary scheme to destroy the "carpet-bag governments, even by military force was planned by Democratic leaders and the secession Generals. General Hampton tells us there was no dissent. He found every member of the party pledged to it, (Mr. Seymour and all), the "warmest" being "from the North," and that they only wanted success in November to enable them "to take it up and carry it out."

Thus, then, we have the whole Democratic party solemnly committed to revolution—at a secret convention held in New York, at which Rebel generals attended. We call it a "convention," but it was rather a capitulation—a surrender—and what is worse, the surrender of traitors. If they had surrendered openly—in broad day—with frank avowal of their their purpose, no one would have complained. They deliberately proposed to cheat the country. "Help them to to gain the power" and all will go well. To gain that power, chicanery, and deceit, and fraud are to be used; and when a Democratic leader talks soothingly of peace and constitutional remedies, show him this solemn confession of Wade Hampton, and convict him of falsehood. The record comes out as clear as the sun. Give Wade Hampton and his friends power and we shall have another civil war to prove "the Reconstruction act unconstitutional, revolutionary, and void."

This is a solemn charge, but let us press it and call up the witnesses. Wade Hampton and Frank Blair have spoken. Here is Robert Toombs, a prominent Democrat of Georgia:

Mr. Toombs what is your understanding of the Democratic policy?

Mr. T.—"That all these reconstruction acts as they are called, these schemes of delusion, of villiany, and of tyranny, shall no longer curse the statute book nor oppress the free people of the country."—Speech in Atlanta, July 23.

Frankly spoken, Roberti but we should like something more explicit. You have heard General Hampton's testimony. What is your opinion of the Democratic policy?

Mr. T.—"That these so-called Governors and Legislatures which have been established in our midst shall at once be made to vacate. The Convention at New York appointed Frank Blair especially to oust them."—Speech at Atlanta.

Then, Robert, you believe in resistance, and that Frank should be assisted in his work?

Mr. T.—[Rather vaguely, but with out-cropping, unmistakable meaning.] "The principle that justice shall rule that all tyranny is illegal, that it ought to be resisted, and that resistance to such is obedience to God, is the the voice of nature, and of nature's God, ringing through all climes, of all countries, proclaiming to mankind that wrong can never be sanctioned by force."

Here is Howell Cobb, whose speech we published recently, and the spirit of which we are content with summoning up in this extract:

"The doors are wide open, wide enough, broad enough to receive every white man in Georgia, unless you should discover him coming to you creeping and crawling under the Chicago platform. Upon them there should be no mercy. They have dishonored themselves, and sought to dishonor you. Anathematize them. Drive them from the pale of social and political society. Leave them to wallow in their own mire and filth. Nobody will envy them, and if they are never taken out of the gully until I reach forth my hand to take them up, they will die in their natural element. [Laughter and applause]."

Could language be plainer than this? Gen. Blair proposes to destroy the Government, while Gen. Cobb, who commanded the stockades of Andersonville, is to be a signal to the congenial work of extermination. B. H. Hill is another witness. We propose to detain him a little longer:

"But we have a party now organized, a strong and a glorious party, with statesmen at its head, and with correct principles for its platform. They have taken the field, and from Maine to California the dread tramp of Democracy is growing more and more distinct, and by November a verdict will be pronounced by the great free men of America that shall gladden the hearts of patriots now and forever, [cheers,] and when the people shall have pronounced that verdict, the great cowardly crowd will take courage, and hasten to their judgment.

"Then, oh, then, what will become of you, ye isolated hypocrites? All power to threaten gone; treachery exhausted. Relief measures and Reconstruction measures both dead, the Radical party out of Congress, how on earth will you thus strip naked—to the gaze of the world in all your unhidden infamy? What will become of you? How will you escape the damnation of Hell? [A voice: 'There's no hell bad enough for 'em.'] That's what is coming; oh, it's coming, thank God, it's coming—coming to the cheer of patriots and the dismay of traitors."

"Yet the vile, the low, the corrupt and the perjured are seeking to be our rulers, and have seized upon our high places; but the noble, the valiant and the true are still left to us, and throughout the country are taking courage and singing the notes of coming triumph. Ye miserable swarms of political accidency, hatched in the stench of revolutionary corruption into an ephemeral existence—renegades from the laws of God, and violators of the laws of men, we serve you with notice this day, that victory is coming. Georgians—proud Georgians, the men of the South, the men of the North—patriots everywhere are sending up their vows to heaven that this is and shall forever be a Union of equal States, or no Union at all. [Wild cheers, lasting several miutes.] Men of pride, men of character, women—thank God—without a dissenting voice, and even children in their play-grounds are proclaiming on hill-top and in the Valley, that whom God made superior shall never be degraded."

According to Ben, therefore, "the men whom God made superior" are to have a Union that he fancies or "no Union at all." This is his understanding of the Democratic platform, and as a preparatory step he makes this proclamation:

"One thing you must do for the protection of your children of yourselves, and for the vindication of your honor. I affirm it, and want it heard It is going to be the law of this country, and a law more irrepealable than the laws of the Medes and Persians. Not one man that dares record his vote for the inequality and vassalage of the Southern States, and the degradation of his own race, ought ever to be received into a decent family in Georgia, or in the South, now or hereafter. [Cries of 'Never.'] If we have not got the power to make the laws for our General Goverment, or for society, thank God we can at least pass laws for our own homesteads. My mother and my sisters and my dear young ladies—for I am sure I love every one of you—I feel that I am the brother of every woman in Georgia and the son of every man—I charge you this day as you honor your children, and your household, and your goodname, and your posterity, never suffer a single native renegade that votes for the vassalage of these States and the disgrace of your children to darken your doors or speak to any member of your family. [Cries of 'Good,' 'That's right,' 'Hurrah,' etc.] You condemn the poor victim to the penitentiary who steals a horse or $100 and yet these miserable vagabonds, have sought to bargain away everything that you have. You scorn the criminal—the man that has violated the laws of your country. These miserable vagabonds are faithless to every law in Heaven and of earth, and have used every means to sell you to those that hate you."

This is the spirit that murdered Ashburn at midnight in his bed—that led to a riot in New-Orleans "worse than the massacre at Fort Pillow" that has generated the Ku-Klux Klan—that has made Texas a hell—and compelled two years of military occupation and domination in the South. It now proposes to lay violent hands upon the Constitution and the reconstructed Union, to destroy the fruits of victory, and to bring us back, Wade Hampton expresses it, "to the Union and the Constitution as they existed before the war." Could words be plainer? Could a purpose be more evident or more natural? Gen. Hampton fought through many bloody battles for this result—why should he not accept it from Seymour and Blair? In 1860 Democracy meant the eternity of Slavery; in 1864 it meant that the war and emancipation were failures; in 1868 it means that treachery and surrender shall undo the results of the war, and bring upon us anarchy, unrest, persecution in the South, banishment of the loyalists, proscription of Union men, the triumph of slave-power, and the perpetuation of the slave interest. They call it "reaction," and assert that they mean peace. We call it Revolution. We produce the evidence, and insist that it means war.

Friends—study this record—and then tell us, If the Democratic party does not mean Revolution, what does it mean!—Tribune.

A Standing Army of Rebels.

The troops of the Ku Klux, in their peculiar uniforms, which appeared upon our streets, on Saturday night is most significant when taken in connection with the declarations of Gen Pike at the Democratic Club. It assures us definitely that we have in our midst a standing rebel army organized and redy to take the field. Thus hundreds of uniformed soldiery not only unknown to but in deadly enmity with, all lawful authority, threatens our peace and liberties. It becomes the law abiding men of Tennesee to organize and arm immediately.—Memphis Post, of late date.

THE Louisville Journal sounds the long roll, and says: "Democrats, stand to the polls. If that will not do, stand to your guns," and the spirit of these words breathes through mad speech and raving editorial, from the Ohio to the Gulf. The only hope of quenching these flames is by smothering them under the overwhelming ballots cast for Grant, Colfax, and Peace.

DEMOCRATIC stumpers and editors tell us the bonds are held by the rich while the poor pay the taxes. Seymour says the bonds "have gone into the hands of innocent holders, who, to a vast amount, are compulsory owners. It is a mistake to suppose that they are mostly held by capitalists."

WHEN Blair, in 1860, during the campaign in Indiana, branded the Democracy as a "vile, miserable party" and abused Douglas so fiercely, Dan. Voorhees called Blair the "prince of blackguards." Blair in return branded Voorhees as a "hell-hound." Now the "hell-hound" supports the "prince of blackguards." A nice couple, truly.

THE Democratic party congratulates itself that it can now make an offensive war. The nation will prepare to hold its nose.—Chicago Post.

ANIMAL INTELLIGENCE.

A new champion for the intelligence of animals, M. Earnest Menault, has revived the discussion in a book full of facts and inferences which, if not all new, are all to the point. We take an example or two of what the smallest and the dullest of them, as well as the biggest and cleverest—fleas and fish as well as elephants—can do.

There were industrious fleas before our time. Baron Walckenaer (who died in 1452) saw with his own eyes, for sixpence, in the Place de la Bourse, Paris, four learned fleas perform the manual exercise, standing upright on their hind legs, with a splinter of wood to serve for a pike. Two other fleas dragged a golden carriage, with a third flea, holding a whip, on the box for coachman. Another pair dragged a cannon. The flea-horses were harnessed by a golden chain fastened to their hind legs, which was never taken off. They had lived in this way two years and a half, without any mortality among them, when Walckenaer saw them. They took their meals on their keeper's arm. The feats were performed on a plate of polished glass. When they were sulky, and refused to work, the man, instead of whipping them, held a bit of lighted charcoal over their backs, which very soon brought them to their senses.

But of what use is cleverness without a heart? The flea has strong maternal affections. She lays her eggs in the crannies of floors, in the bedding of animals, and on babies' night-clothes. When the helpless, transparent larvæ appear, the mother-flea feeds them, as the dove does its young, by discharging into their months the contents of her stomach. Grudge her not, therefore, one small drop of blood. For you, it is nothing but a flea-bite; for her, it is the life of her beloved offspring!

While pleading, however, for the flea we cannot do as much for the bug, though he is gifted with fuller developed intelligence. An inquisitive gentman, wishing to know how the bug became aware of a human presence, tried the following experiment. He got into a bed suspended from the ceiling, without any tester, in the middle of an unfurnished room. He then placed on the floor a bug, who, guided probably by smell pondered the means of reaching the bed. After deep reflection he climbed up the wall, traveled straight across the ceiling to the spot immediately over the bed, and then dropped plump on the observer's nose. Was this, or was it not, an act of intelligence? The fish belongs to the great flathead family. One fellow, with a muzzle prolonged into a long narrow tube (which he uses as a popgun,) prowls about the banks of tidal rivers. On spying a fly on the water-weeds he slyly swims up until he gets within five or six feet of it. He then shoots it with water from his proboscis, never failing to bring down his game. A governor of the hospital at Batavia, doubting the fact, though attested by credible witnesses, procured some of these fish, to watch their pranks. He stuck a fly on a pin at the end of a stick, and placed it so as to attract their notice. To his great delight they shot it with their water guns, for which he rewarded them with a treat of insects.

The pike has proved himself not only intelligent but even capable—disbelieve it who will—of gratitude.

"While living at Durham," says Dr. Warwick, "I took a walk one evening in Lord Stamford's park. On reaching a pond in which fish were kept ready for use, I observed a fine pike of some six pounds' weight. At my approach he darted away like an arrow. In his hurry he knocked his head against an iron hook fixed in a post in the water, fracturing his skull and injuring the optic nerve on one side of his head. He appeared to suffer terrible pain; he plunged into the mud, floundered hither and thither, and at last, leaping out of the water, fell on the bank. On examination a portion of the brain was seen protruding through the fractured skull.

"This I carefully restored to its place, making use of a small silver toothpick to raise the splinters of broken bone. The fish remained quiet during the operation; when it was over he plunged into the pond. At first his sufferings appeared to be relieved; but in the course of a few minutes he began rushing right and left until he again leaped out of the water.

"I called the keeper, and with his assistance applied a bandage to the fracture. That done, we restored him to the pond and left him to his fate. Next morning, as soon as I reached the water's edge, the pike swam to meet me quite close to the bank, and laid his head upon my feet. I thought this an extraordinary proceeding. Without further delay, I examined the wound and found it healing nicely. I then strolled for some time by the side of the pond. The fish swam after me, following my steps, and turning as I turned.

"The following day, I brought a few young friends with me to see the fish. He swam toward me as before. Little by little he became so tame as to come to my whistle and eat out of my hand. With other persons, on the contrary, he continued as shy and as wild as ever."

This anecdote is averred to have been read, in 1850, before the Liverpool Literary and Philosophical Society.

The elephant, with a sort of humorous justice, is given to return injuries or insults in kind. In Madagascar, an elephant's cornac, happening to have a cocoa-nut in his hand, thought fit, out of bravado, to break it on the animal's head. The elephant made no protest at the time; but next day, passing a fruit stall, he took a cocoa-nut in his trunk and returned the cornac's compliment so vigorously on his head that he killed him on the spot.

If vindictive, the elephant is also grateful. At Pondicherry, a soldier who treated an elephant to a dram of arrack every time he received his pay, found himself the worse for liquor. When they were about to carry him off to prison, he took refuge under the elephant and fell asleep. His protector would allow no one to approach, and watched him carefully all night. In the morning, after caressing him with his trunk, he dismissed him to settle with the authorities as best he could.

Both revenge and gratitude imply intelligence; still more does the application of an unforseen expedient. A train of artillery going to Seringapatam had to cross the shingly bed of a river. A man who was sitting on a gun-carriage, fell; in another second the wheel would have passed over his body. An elephant walking by the side of the carriage saw the danger, and instantly without any order from his keeper, lifted the wheel from the ground, leaving the fallen man uninjured.

At Clemency on the borders of Switzerland, a wolf toward nightfall entered the village, and immediately gave chase to a small gray terrier belonging to no one in particular. Instead however of taking shelter in the nearest cottage, the dog rushed on to the end of the hamlet, and, entered a wheel-wrights yard, leaped safe and sound into the kennel of a huge mastiff. The wolf, had followed too closely to recede, and the mastiff, in spite of a heavy chain that cramped his movements, darted out suddenly and seized the wolf by the skin of the back. The sequel was remarkable. The mastiff, impeded by his chain, began to yield to the struggles of the wolf, which was a full-grown powerful beast, when just at the right moment, another large dog arrived at full speed, accompanied by the terrier, who had evidently seen his comrade's need of assistance, and gone off to procure it. This unexpected ally put an end to the conflict, and the wolf was speedily mastered.

Extracts of a Model Love Letter.

MY DEAR JERUSHA.—Every time I think of you my heart flops up and down like a churn-dasher. As a gosling swimmeth with delight in a mud-puddle, so swim I in a sea of glory. Visions of ecstatic rapture, thicker than the hair of a blacking brush and brighter than the hues on a humming bird's pinion, visit me in my slumbers; and borne on their visible wings, your image stands before me, and I reach out to grasp it, like an old pointer snapping at a blue bottle fly. When I first beheld your angelic perfections I was bewildered, and my brain whirled around like a bumble-bee under a glass tumbler. Since the light of your face fell upon my life I sometimes feel as if I could lift myself by my boot straps to the top of a church steeple. Day and night you are my thought. Your hair is like the mane of a sorrel horse powdered with gold; and the brass pin skewered through your waterfall filled me with unbounded awe. Your forehead is smoother than the elbow of an old coat, and whiter then seventeen hundred linen. Your eyes are glorious to behold. In their liquid depths I see legends of little Cupids battling and fighting like cohorts of ants in an old army cracker. Your nose is from a chunk of Parian marble, and your mouth puckered with sweetness. Nectar lingers on your lips like honey on a bear's paws, and myriads of unfledged kisses are there ready to fly out and light somewhere like young bluebirds out of the parent nest. Your laugh rings on my ears like the windharp's strain, or the bleat of a stray lamb on the bleak hill-side. The dimples in your cheeks are like flowers in beds of roses, or like hollows in cakes of home-made sugar. I am dying to fly to your presence and pour out the burning eloquence of my love as thrifty housewives pour out the hot coffee. As the song bird hungers for the light of day, the cautious mouse for the fresh bacon in the trap; as a lean pup hankers after new milk, so I long for thee. If these few remarks will enable you to see the inside of my soul, and me to win your affections, I shall be as happy as a woodpecker in a cherry-tree or a stage horse in a green pasture. If you cannot reciprocate my thrilling passions I will pine away like a poisoned bed-bug, and fall away from the flourishing vine of life an untimely branch, and in the coming years, when the shadows grow long from the hills and the philosophic frog sings his evening hymn, you, happy in another's love, can come and drop a tear and toss a clod upon the last resting place of

THE REPUBLICAN FOR THE CAMPAIGN!

GRANT, COLFAX AND PEACE!

Humanity, Liberty and Freedom!

No Treason! No Repudiation! No Revolution!

REPUBLICANS! Party lines are now distinctly drawn and the great battle of Freedom against Oppression, to be fought this Fall, demands that the Republican party—the party of Freedom—should work. The dissemination of political truth can be more thoroughly and effectually accomplished through your own journal than in any other way! We therefore appeal to you to aid us in giving it a wider circulation.

Its future course will be marked by its past; always against Treason, Repudiation and Revolution, in whatever form, and for loyal men to rule the Republic!

We point with pride to the standard your paper has attained compared with that of two years ago, and promise greater improvement if the required assistance is given us.

REPUBLICANISM.

The Platform by which it is Supported.

Law, Liberty, Justice and Equality!

Great Truths for a Great People.

GRANT, COLFAX AND VICTORY.

The following platform, reported by the Committee on Resolutions, was unanimously adopted by the National Republican convention in session at Chicago in the 21st ult.:

First. We congratulate the country on the assured success of the reconstruction projects of Congress, as evinced by the adoption, in a majority of the States lately in rebellion, of constitutions securing equal, civil and political rights to all, and regard it as the duty of the Government to sustain these institutions and to prevent the people of such States from being remitted to a state of anarchy.

Second. The guarantee of Congress of equal suffrage to all loyal men at the South was demanded by every consideration of public safety, of gratitude, and of justice, and must be maintained, while the question of suffrage in all the loyal States properly belongs to the people of those States.

Third. We denounce all forms of repudiation as a national crime, and national honor requires the payment of the public indebtedness in the utmost good faith to all creditors, at home and abroad, not only according to the letter but the spirit of the laws under which it was contracted.

Fourth. It is due to the labor of the nation that taxation should be equalized, and reduced as rapidly as the national faith will permit.

Fifth. The national debt, contracted as it has been for the preservation of the Union for all time to come, should be extended over a fair period for redemption, and it is the duty of Congress to reduce the rate of interest thereon whenever it can possibly be done.

Sixth. That the best policy to diminish our burden of debt is to so improve our credit that capitalists will seek to loan us money at lower rates of interest than we now pay, and must continue to pay so long as repudiation, partial or total, open or covert, is threatened or suspected.

Seventh. The Government of the United States should be administered with the strictest economy, and the corruptions which have been so shamefully nursed and fostered by Andrew Johnson call loudly for radical reform.

Eighth. We profoundly deplore the untimely and tragic death of Abraham Lincoln, and regret the accession of Andrew Johnson to the Presidency, who has acted treacherously to the people who elected him and the cause he was pledged to support; has usurped legislative and judicial functions, has refused to execute the laws; has used his high office to induce other officers to ignore and violate the laws; has employed his executive power to render insecure the prosperity, peace, liberty, and life of the citizens; has abused the pardoning power; has denounced the national Legislature as unconstitutional; has persistently and corruptly resisted, by every means in his power, every proper attempt at the reconstruction of the States lately in rebellion; has perverted the public patronage into an engine of wholesale corruption, and has been justly impeached for high crimes and misdemeanors, and properly pronounced guilty by the votes of thirty-five Senators.

Ninth. The doctrine of Great Britain and other European powers, that because a man is once a subject he is always so, must be resisted at every hazard by the United States as a relic of the feudal times, not authorized by the law of nations and at war with our national honor and independence. Naturalized citizens are entitled to be protected in all their rights of citizenship as though they were native-born, and no citizen of the United States, native or naturalized, must be liable to arrest and imprisonment by any foreign power for acts done or words spoken in this country. And if so arrested and imprisoned, it is the duty of the Government to interfere in his behalf.

Tenth. Of all who were faithful in the trials of the late war there were none entitled to more especial honor than the brave soldiers and seamen who endured the hardships of camp paign and cruise and imperilled their lives in the service of the country. The bounties and pensions provided by law for these brave defenders of the nation are obligations never to be forgotten. The widows and orphans of the gallant dead are the wards of the people, a sacred legacy bequeathed to the nation's protecting care.

Eleventh. Foreign emigration, which in the past has added so much to the wealth and development of the resources and the increase of power of this nation, "the asylum of the oppressed of all nations," should be fostered and encouraged by a liberal and just policy.

Twelfth. This convention declares its sympathy with all the oppressed people who are struggling for their rights.

On motion of General Carl Schurz, the following additional resolutions were unanimously adopted as part of the platform:

Resolved, That we highly commend the spirit of magnanimity and forbearance with which the men who have served in the rebellion, but now frankly and honestly co-operate with us in restoring the peace of the country and reconstructing the Southern State governments upon the basis of impartial justice and equal rights, are received back into the communion of the loyal people; and we favor the removal of the disqualifications and restrictions imposed upon the late rebels in the same measure as their spirit of loyalty will direct, and as may be consistent with the safety of the loyal people.

Resolved, That we recognize the great principles laid down in the immortal Declaration of Independence as the true foundation of democratic government, and we hail with gladness every effort toward making these principles a living reality on every inch of American soil.

OUR NEXT CONGRESSMAN.

If we mistake not we have employed this heading before, but then merely for speculation or in advocacy of the right of our County to the office. This time we use it to convey the welcome intelligence to our readers that we have succeeded, that on Friday last the conferees of the 24th District placed in nomination the man of our choice, Capt. Joseph B. Donley. After nine day's of balloting and caucusing, of honest, good natured fighting, success was achieved. The conferees of this county are deserving of honor for the persistency displayed in the struggle and to them should be accorded a full share of the laurels.

Capt. Joseph Benton Donley is a native of Greene County, having been born in Mt. Morris in 1838 and is therefore thirty years of age. His father is a Democrat of the old school and served two terms in the State Legislature as their representative. As early as 1852-53, the time of the Kansas and Nebraska troubles, young Donley identified himself with the party of which he is now a member. Although not entitled to vote he was known among his school-mates at the time as a most vehement anti-Slavery advocate and when in 1860 the opportunity was offered to demonstrate his words by his acts, he cast his first ballot for Lincoln and Hamlin. He is a graduate of Waynesburg College of the class of 59, and at the breaking out of the war resided in Knox County, Ills., employed as a professor in Abingdon College. The 83rd Regt., of Ills. Infantry was raised in that neighborhood in 1862, and Donley actuated by impulses alone patriotic, was mustered into Company I, as a private, was soon after promoted to Captain, and served with his company actively until the close of the war, being connected with the Army of the Cumberland. After being mustered out he returned to Greene County and shortly after entered the Albany (N.Y.) Law School and graduated in May, 1866. Returning to his home again, he took an active part in the gubernatorial contest of that year, stumping this county with good results to the cause. In the spring of 1867, he was appointed by Chief Justice Chase, a Register in Bankruptcy, for the 24th District, which position he now holds.

With a record thus showing him to have always been on the right side, we take the more pleasure in putting him before the people as a candidate for high honors. So far as mental acumen, vim, and moral integrity is concerned he is the peer of any who can be found in the ranks of the opposition. Of course, his sympathies are in hearty accord with the living principles of the Republican party embodied in the Chicago platform, and in fierce antagonism with the Repudiation and Revolution dogmas of Democracy. Three years of soldier life will add to his favor among that class of our voters. He is a representative of the Blue Coats worthy of their ballots and of all who sustained the cause for which they fought. An eloquent speaker his voice will be heard throughout the canvass by men of all parties who choose to hear, and they can judge fairly between him and his principles and those of his opponent. Although every fair means will be used to secure votes he will conduct the canvass on manly and courteous principles, and from his popularity now established in both parties, which will be increased, we are safe in predicting a considerable reduction in the Democratic majority of Greene. We are assured also that the other counties of the District will put forth their best efforts and enlarge if possible upon their majorities of '66.

ONCE MORE TO THE BREACH!

We may compare the Republican organization in this county to a battery that once breached the enemy's works and did good execution, but from disuse has become dismantled and needs remodelling and strengthening. The first thing to be done was to get the guns in position and open fire, under cover of which we might accomplish this work. It has been done. This week finds every piece in position and now we may go on with the remodelling and strengthening. It is worse than idleness, it is criminal negligence, to sit calmly down at this stage of the conflict and await the result of the fire of our opponents. WORK, earnest HARD WORK, by every private, every officer, is alone to save our vantage ground. In each township organization must be had if not already attained. Every information in regard to the status of the party should be furnished on enquiry to our Executive Committees, and it can be accomplished by every man constituting himself a committee to enquire into and look after the interest of the party in his own community. Acquaint yourselves, each with his neighbor's politics, converse with them if disposed to reason, and have them supplied with a copy of the REPUBLICAN or other sound reading during the campaign. Don't, because the skies are bright at present, think they may not soon be overclouded. An important election is just at hand in our own State and as "Pennsylvania goes so goes the Union!" The 13th of October must see Democracy discomfitted or an additional burden imposed upon the Republicans everywhere, to carry through the Presidential canvass. The pitiful majority of 922 votes claimed by Democracy last year, has since been found fraudulent by investigating committees. By colonization and false naturalization they eked out this small preponderance in a vote of over 500,000, the Republicans polling 40,000 less of the 597,000 votes cast in '66, and they only 25,000, our activity being 25 per cent. below par and their's 10. It is estimated that 600,000 votes will be polled this Fall --more than ever before in this State, and colonization, and coffee-colored papers for aliens will be used by the Democracy, yet if the Republicans are watchful they can carry the day by a majority above 17,178—Geary's majority of '66. A change of a very few votes in each district may turn the current against us. Therefore, unless you want to be caught up in "the whirling tide" and borne on to anarchy and ruin you must WORK! Republicans! close up the gaps in your ranks and, shoulder to shoulder, move forward to Victory!

THE DEBT AND ITS AUTHORS.

The Democratic papers and orators are very fond of emphasizing the fact that the United States have a great debt, and that the people are heavily taxed. They declare that when the Democratic party controlled the Government the public expenses were infinitely smaller and taxes were practically imperceptible.

Very well; granting that the debt is large and the taxes are heavy, why do they not continue and tell us why they are so? For the same reason that the criminal prefers not to plead guilty. The debt is large and the taxes are heavy because the Democratic party, when it was constitutionally removed from power, rose in rebellion at the South, remained as aparty hostile at the North, and compelled the Government to fight desperately for its existence. An enormous war makes an enormous debt. Those who caused the war created the debt. Who began the war? Was it Jefferson Davis, Wade Hampton, Robert Toombs, Raphael Semmes, and the other Southern Democratic leaders who fired upon Fort Sumter, or was it Major Anderson who defended it? If the people had submitted to the cannon of those Democratic patriots and conservative friends of the Constitution there would have been no debt and no taxation today—and no country. The rebellion was plotted in the Democratic Cabinet and Senate. The debt is the price of the salvation of the country from the rebellion of Democrats. If the Democrats had acquiesced in the constitutional result of an election in which they took part there would have been no war, no debt, no increased taxation. The debt is a Democratic debt, and the taxes are sharp hints for a foiled conspiracy of Democrats against the Government.

And what is the remedy for this increased taxation which the Democratic platform proposes? Swindling. First the Democratic leaders take the money from our purses, and then the honor from our name. As we have achieved a material victory in the war, they are trying to prepare for us a moral defeat in refusing to pay the expenses of the war. And this, which is the purpose of those whose haughty hearts still swell in the hatred of the Union, and who disdain the Government when they do not control it, is to be submitted, to "the calm, quiet, thoughtful commonsense of the people." Who has been in this country long enough to understand something of that common-sense and of its conclusions, doubts what its verdict will be upon a proposition of national infamy? Does he suppose that a people whom the rebels could not conquer they can dishonor?

Enemies of the national honor, the common-sense that baffled their attempt at secession will defeat their effort at repudiation and revolution. —Harper's Weekly.

THE STAMPEDE.

Gen. J. Bowman Sweitzer of Pittsburg, a shining light in Democratic circles, has signified his intention of joining his former leader's forces. He was aspirant for Congressional honors on the Democratic ticket in '66. His influence is said to be great and will prove a loss to the enemy not easily replaced.

At a recent election in Indiana in the town of New Albany, there was a gain of eight hundred votes for the Republicans. It is accounted for by the fact that Senator Hendricks had just made one of Frank Blair's revolution speeches at that point.

THE Thirty-ninth and Fortieth Republican Congresses have removed $191,000,000 of taxes, that but for this action the people would now be called upon to pay.

SEYMOUR ON THE BOND-HOLDERS.

In his speech of March 11, 1868, before the Democratic State Convention in New York Horatio Seymour said:

"It is a mistake to suppose that they (the bonds) are mostly held by capitalists. Large sums belonging to children and widows, under the order of the Courts or the action of trustees, have been invested in Government bonds. The vast amounts held by fire and life insurance companies and savings banks are in fact held in trust for and are the reliance of the gre atbody of active business or laboring men or women or of widows and ophans."

ST. The Sheriff's brother and another assistant were killed. All of the desperadoes escaped.

THE REIGN OF TERROR.

Gov. Warmoth has made a requisition upon the President for troops to put an end to the Rebel reign of terror which has prevailed in parts of Louisiana and Texas, with steadily increasing violence, for months past, and which was originally superinduced throughout the Fifth Military District by the removal of Sheridan and the appointment of Conservative generals in his stead. These nonentities, Hancock and Buchanan, have substituted Rebel palaver and sentimental Democracy for the enforcement of Federal authority and protection of society from lawlessness and crime, until over 1000 murders in Texas have been committed, with but a single instance of punishment; and in Louisiana the condition of things is precisely like that in 1860-61, when the Rebels drove the Union men from the State or dragooned them into secession.

TAKE A CHANCE WHEN IT IS OFFERED.—The closing out sale of D. Shirk's large and splendid assortment of Dry Goods, &c., is the rarest opportunity yet offered the people for to buy cheap and excellent goods at low rates.

WE are requested to state that the stockholders of the Waynesburg Agricultural Society, are required, by resolution of the society to pay in fifty per cent. of the stock to the Treasurer Thomas Braden, on or before the 15th day of August, inst.

I. O. OF O. T.—At an election held July 29, Elizabeth Lodge, No. 546, I. O. of G. T. put in office the following persons for the coming quarter: W. C. T., John Kendall; W. V. T., Mrs. Caroline McAllister; W. T., Miss Maria M. Lindsey; W. S., W. G. Gardner; W. I. G., Miss Mary Thomas; W. O. G., Calvin Sharpneck. W. G. GARDNER, Sec.

THE PARRICIDE.—The boy Thomas, who killed his father recently in Centre tp., is nineteen years old, but very small of his age. He is yet at home, and is said to feel deeply the sense of his situation. The sympathy in the neighborhood seems to be in his favor, the deed being the result of influences by which he was always surrounded, and for which alone the deceased parent was to blame.

COMPLIMENTARY.—We see by the Marietta (O.) Register of the 23rd ult, Col. A. W. McCormick, of Washington Co., in the Congressional Conference of the 15th District, received, out of 124 votes cast for four competitors, 45 votes—five above any of the others. On third ballot he withdrew. The Colonel is a former resident of our county and we congratulate him on his popularity among the Buckeyes.

LITTLEFIELD'S GRANT.—Littlefield's line engraving of Gen. Grant is spoken of by the best critics as a superior work of art differing from other portraits in that it is a perfect likeness of the hero in every lineament. It claims superiority to Marshall's engraving, which must place it high in public favor if true. L. Harrod Bell, Carmichaels, Greene Co., Pa., is sole agent for this county, and will fill all orders left with him.

CONFIRMED.—Rev. Z. Ragan, D. D., of Connellsville, Fayette county, formerly of Steubenville, Ohio, was confirmed by the Senate on the 17th of last month, as Post Chaplain in the United States army. The gallant and lamented Col. Shane, of the ninety-eighth Ohio, who fell at the storming of Kenesaw Mountain, Georgia was a son-in-law of Chaplain Ragan. His many friends in this county will be pleased to here of the appointment.

WHAT'S UP?—Last Friday we heard a young African blood, with mouth of huge capacity, crying on our street: "Here's your Waynesburg Messenger, second 'dition!" Is this the beginning of the Millenium that is to be when "Democracy" accepts the situation? But, why the——didn't you begin on a cream-colored one and not on the Ace of Spades himself? Was it a fellow-feeling that made our neighbor so wondrous kind, at the risk of his Democracy?

A TRUTH.—It speaks well for any town or place to be the centre of enterprise and it is a sensible idea to encourage its influx This may be done by proper appreciation—by looking with favor upon all new comers who bring with them mercantile or commercial industry and a disposition to drive the particular business they are engaged in. McCay & Bro., have recently come among us. We are assured they are reliable and trustworthy. As such we commend them to our citizens. See New Advertisement.

PROGRESS IN MANUFACTURES.—In an article which we published in this journal in December last, under the above caption, we referred at some length to the great soap manufactory of Mr. J. B. Dobbins, at Sixth St., and Germantown Avenue, predicting that the soap which Mr. Dobbins manufactures—familiarly known as Dobbins' Electric Soap—was destined to attain a degree of popularity never equaled by any other manufactured article in this country; and stating that already the cupidity of certain envious (would be) rivals had been excited by Mr. Dobbin's unparalleled success.

It is to the latter of these points that we to-day wish briefly to direct intention. As a great economizer of time and labor, we then gave to Mr. Dobbins' Soap the endorsement which its merits deserve, believing that by so doing we should promote the comfort and happiness of millions throughout our cities and the country at large. But we are unwilling that our endorsement of a good article shall be falsely used in order to give respectability and character to poor imitations of it. There are certain soap manufacturers of the more unscrupulous class, who after varily endeavoring to foist their soap upon the market under certain names have simply changed their names, with ut in the least improving their washing properties, and are endeavoring to delude the public into the adoption of these miserable shams. They are pretty looking white soaps, but for washing purposes are absolutely good for nothing. Let the people therefore beware. One concern has even gone so far in this deception as to advertise Philadelphia Electric Soap, very nearly imitating his labels, with the evident design of misleading buyers into the supposition that it is the Dobbins' article. Of course no honorable, well established firm would resort to such a trick. In fact, we know of respectable firms in the business who denounce the imposture more severely than does Mr. Dobbins himself

We can hardly imagine a more disreputable mercantile proceedure than these "played out" soap-makers, after their soaps have become as "played out" as themselves, endeavoring to recusitate their dead failures by resurrecting them in new boxes, or rather in the old ones with new labels and palming them on upon unsuspecting dealers and consumers as "Electric Soap!" It is a wonder that their audacity has not impelled them even to the use of Dobbins' name to give currency to their worthless trash. Again, we say, beware of these imitations! Those who have not yet tried the merits of the genuine Electric Soap have still a real household blessing in store for them, and we recommend all our readers to avail themselves of it; but let them be careful to buy no other than that manufactured by Mr. Dobbins at his immense works, corner of Sixth street and Germantown avenue, Philadelphia.—Philadelphia Press, July 11th, 1868.

CHICKEN COOP.—Our "handsome" neighbor's sheet this week looks as if he had been on a midnight raid and stumbled into a potterer's yard. It will be perceived that the chickens are "on the crow." For what? Because Kentucky elected a Democratic Governor. They might as well crow because the Dutch hold Holland. Can any of our readers, or their readers, explain why these cocks never crowed when Donelson succumbed or when Vicksburg was won? Why they uttered no sound of victory and defiance when the heights at Gettysburg rang with shouts of joy as rebel hordes turned to leave the State? And when Appomatox saw the close of strife why they gave forth not even a cluck of satisfaction?

"When widows mourned their lonely lot
And orphan children wept their dead,
Who said their just deserts they'd got?
The Northern, rebel Copperhead,

Crawl to your dunghill, viper, crawl!
For Gen. Grant with conquering tread,
Marches to crush the thing men call,
In politics, a Copperhead."

THE CONFERENCE.—Monongahela House, Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 6, 1868.—Agreeably to previous adjournment the Republican Conferees of the 24th Congressional District, met at the Monongahela House, and proceeded to nominate a candidate for Congress. After several ballots with no nomination, Conference adjourned to meet Aug. 7, at 9 o'clock A. M.

Reassembled at the appointed time, and on the 10th Ballot Capt. J. B. Donley received 8 votes and was declared the nominee. On motion his nomination was immediately made unanimous. Capt. Donley, was introduced to the Conference, and in a brief speech returned thanks for the honor conferred, and accepted the nomination. The following resolutions were adopted by the Conference:

Resolved, That we recommend the Executive committee of the several counties composing the 24th District to appoint three persons from each county to meet and a lopt a system for the Government of future nominations.

Resolved, That the foregoing Resolution be published in the several Republican papers of the 24th District,

A. MURDOCK, Pres't.
J. W. BLANCHARD,)
HENRY HICE, } Secretaries.
F. H. CRAGO,)

FIRE!—Last Wednesday, the dread sound of "fire!" rang in our street and away went the Bucket Brigade to the scene of disaster—Mr. Phelan's house at the east end of town. Before we arrived at the place the fire was smothered. The alarm was caused by a pot of oil and paint boiling over on the stove and igniting. Blazing to the ceiling, there was no way of getting it out of the kitchen except by lifting it by the ball with a poker, which was done by Mr. Wm. Phelan. In carrying it out it slipped off just at the doorway and flooded the floor and porch with fire. A prompt application of water saved further damage than the burning of a carpet, injury to furniture, etc.

MAGNANIMOUS!—When one person by his own intrinsic merit gets away beyond all rivals in fame and real worth, he can afford to be magnanimous. This is precisely the position of Frank McGurgan. He is willing as acknowledgement of the high personal esteem in which he holds the citizens of Waynesburg and the county, to sacrifice his whole stock of goods for cash. In doing this he ignores the fact that they are of the best quality, of latest styles, and are to go at low rates. We hope this gushing benevolence and warm-heartedness on Frank's part will not injure him in the eyes of the public, on the contrary that they will immediately relieve him of his goods.

RATIFICATION.—Saturday night the Republican citizens of our town accompanied by a band of music, called upon Capt. J. B. Donley, the Congressional nominee. Capt. Donley, was cheered heartily and responded with thanks and a rapid review of the political situation. He was followed by Mr. John Buchanan in a few happy remarks. The crowd dispersed with "three time three" for Greene county's new Congressman.

SOLDIER STUDENTS, ATTENTION!—All soldiers who have at any time been connected with Waynesburg College, are requested to meet in the College Chapel, on Friday evening, August 14th, '68. The object of the meeting is to consider a proposition to place in the college a "Mural Monument" bearing the names of those students who served in the army of the Union.

T. M. CARROLL,
JAS. N. MILLER, M. L. GORDON,
JAS. E. SAYERS, J. B. DONLEY.

I. O. OF O. F.—At a regular meeting of Richhill Lodge, No. 57', I. O. of O. F it was resolved to celebrate the approaching 13th of Aug., it being the 5th aniversary of the opening of our Lodge. All sister lodges and all members in good standing in the county are respectfully invited to attend and participate with us on the occasion.

P. T. HENDERSHOT,
J. H. DURBIN,
R. L. NOBLE,
Committee of Invitation.

MONONGAHELA VALLEY R. R.—There will be a meeting of the friends of this enterprise at Monongahela City, Washington county, Pa., August 15, 1868. Prompt measures should be taken to have our section represented as the movement is to secure Letters Patent and organize the Company.

CHEERING.—We are constantly making additions to our list of subscribers of men whom we are pleased to know seek the Truth from the fountain itself. If Grant don't get a handsome vote in Greene it is not because signs are bright. "Here's your REPUBLICAN —only 50cts. for the campaign!"

P. O. MATTERS.—Hon. Geo. V. Lawrence presented our case to the Postmaster General recently, and now the mail on the Washington and Pittsburg line is run on schedule time, and we receive our daily mail from the city. We are thankful for the change.

☞ Guide to Marriage.—Young Men's Guide to Happy Marriage and Conjugal Felicity, The humane views of benevolent Physicians, on the Errors and abuses incident to Youth and early Manhood, sent in sealed letter envelopes, free of charge. Address HOWARD ASSOCIATION, Box P., Philadelphia, Pa.
June 17,'68-1y

☞ Address to the Nervous and Debilitated, whose sufferings have been protracted from hidden causes, and whose cases require prompt treatment to render existence desirable: If you are suffering, or have suffered from involuntary discharges, what effect does it produce upon your general health? Do you feel weak, debilitated easily tired? Does a little extra exertion produce palpitation of the heart? Does your liver, or urinary organs, or your kidneys, frequently get out of order? Is your urine sometimes thick, milky or flecky, or is it ropy on settling? Or does a thick scum rise to the top? Or is a sediment at the bottom after it has stood awhile? Do you have spells of short breathing or dyspepsia? Are your bowels constipated? Do you have spells of fainting, or rushes of blood to the head? Is your memory impaired? Is your mind constantly dwelling upon this subject? Do you feel dull, listless, moping, tired of company, of life? Do you wish to be left alone, to get away from everybody? Does any little thing make you start or jump? Is your sleep broken or restless? Is the lustre of your eye as brilliant? The bloom on your cheek as bright? Do you enjoy yourself in society as well? Do you pursue your business with the same energy? Do you feel as much confidence in yourself? Are your spirits dull and flagging, given to fits of melancholy? If so do not lay it to your liver or dyspepsia. Have you restless nights? Your back weak, your knees weak, and have but little appetite, and you attribute this to dyspepsia or liver-complaint?

Now reader, self-abuse, venereal diseases badly cured, and sexual excesses, are all capable of producing a weakness of the generative organs. The organs of generation, when in perfect health make the man. Did you ever think that those bold, defiant, energetic, persevering, successful business-men are always those whose generative organs are in perfect health You never hear such men complain of being melancholy or nervousness, of palpitation of the heart. They are never afraid they cannot succeed in business; they dont become sad and discouraged; they are always polite and pleasant in the company of ladies, and look you and them right in the face—none of your down cast looks or any other meanness about them. I do not mean those who keep the organs inflated by running to excess. These will not only ruin their constitutions, but also those they do business with or for.

How many men, from badly-cured diseases from the effects of self-abuse and excesses, have brought about that state of weakness in those organs that has reduced the general system so much as to induce almost every other disease—idiocy, lunacy, paralysis, spinal affections, suicide, and almost every other form of disease which humanity is heir to, and the real cause of the trouble scarcely ever suspected, and have doctored for all but the right one.

Diseases of these organs require the use of Diuretic. HELBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU is the great Diuretic, and is a certain cure for disease of the Bladder, Kidneys, Organic Weakness, Female Complaints, General Debility, and all diseases of the Urinary Organs, whether existing in Male or Female, from what ever cause originating, and no matter of how long.

If no treatment is submitted to Consumption or Insanity may ensue. Our flesh and blood are supported from these sources, and the health and happiness, and that of Posterity, depends upon prompt use of a reliable remedy.

Helmbold's Extract Buchu, established upward of 18 years, prepared by H. T. HELMBOLD Druggist, 594 New York, and 104 South 10th St., Philadelphia, Pa. PRICE $1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50, delivered to any address. Sold by all Druggists everywhere.

☞ NONE ARE GENUINE unless done up in steel-engraved wrapper, with fac-simile of my Chemical Warehouse, and signed
H. T. HELMBOLD.

Ayer's

Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and, yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for inflamed consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the effluvious which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it in nowise injures any patient. The number and importance of its cures in the ague districts, are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of Ague medicine. Our pride is gratified by the acknowledgments we receive of the radical cures effected in obstinate cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed.

Unacclimated persons, either resident in, or travelling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

Sewing Machines.

THE WORLD RENOWNED

SINGER

SEWING MACHINE.

OUR NEW FAMILY MACHINE,

Has been over two years in preparation, and which has been brought to perfection regardless of time, labor or expense, and is now confidently presented to the public as incomparably the best sewing Machine in existence.

The Machine in question is simple, compact, durable and beautiful. It is quiet, light running and capable of performing a range and variety of work never before attempted upon a single Machine—using either Silk, Twist, Linen or Cotton Thread, and sewing with equal facility the very finest and coarsest materials, and anything between the two extremes, in the most beautiful and substantial manner. Its attachments for Hemming, Braiding, Cording, Tucking, Quilting, Felling, Trimming, Binding, etc., are Novel and Practical, and have been invented and adjusted especially for this Machine.

New designs of the unique, useful and popular folding tops and cabinet cases peculiar to the Machines manufactured by this Company have been prepared for enclosing the new Machines. These are gotten up in every variety of wood, such as Black Walnut, Mahogany, Rosewood, and the like, and from the plainest to the most elaborate pattern and finish—the Machines themselves being more or less highly ornamented, to correspond with the Tables or Cabinets for which they are intended.

A few reasons why SINGER'S latest improved SEWING MACHINES are the best for Family and General Purposes.

1st. You can sew anything from the finest single thickness of Swiss or Nainsook to several thicknesses of the heaviest Beaver cloth, using any kind or size of thread with equal facility, from No. 200 Cotton up to the heaviest patent or Linen thread.

2d. It uses a short, straight needle, easily set, and makes the popular Lock Stitch alike on both sides.

3d. It has an even self-adjusting tension which requires no change for different thicknesses of material or different sizes of thread.

4th. It is free from all springs, wires and other complications, and is almost useless.

5th. No threads to hold or wheels to turn in starting.

6th. It does not have to be taken apart to oil and clean it.

7th. It has a perfect feed whereby you can sew the finest materials without having to keep your work stretched to prevent its "puckering," and you never have to assist the work through as in all other machines.

8th. It will hem any width, sew a straight seam, or make a ciil in the most perfect manner, with less skill than is required to sew a straight seam on any other machine.

Its attachments for Braiding, Cording, Quilting, Binding, Tucking, &c., are novel and practical, and require but little skill to use them.

Careful instructions given at the house of the purchaser.

Money refunded if the machines are not as represented.

Every machine warranted and kept in repair three years without charge.

THE BOYS IN BLUE FOR GRANT AND COLFAX.

AIR—Wake of Teddie the Tyler.

Come jolly comrades, "Boys in Blue,"
There's work on hand for us to do—
We are going to have a grand Review
This fall, we must all remember.
Our Gallant Chief, whose flag we bore
To victory, in the field before,
Is marshalling his vet'ran corps,
And he must have every member!

Then, hip, Hurrah for U. S. GRANT!
And COLFAX too!—the men we want;
Their Banner we shall proudly plant,
In Victory, next November!

To tell you of their glorious fame,
Our feeble pen is far to lame,
But history records the same—
The History of our Nation:—
The first is THE HERO OF THE FIELD,
Who never yet was known to yield;
The second—a STATESMAN, ably skilled
In every qualification.

Then, hip, Hurrah for this noble pair!
On the 4th of March each takes his Chair;
While UP SALT RIVER both Seymour and Blair
Will go for recuperation.

This Seymour and Blair are the two Confed's
Who are arrayed as the fitting heads
Of all the rebels and Copperheads
From Maine to the Rio Grande,
But, to defeat this vaunting crew,
A mighty host, both tried and true,
Join with a million boys in blue.
And we'll do it up neat and handy.

Then, hip, HURRAH! we'll sing and shout,
For GRANT and COLFAX, good and stout!
And Seymour and Blair we'll put to rout,
Along with the traitor Andy!

FRANK BLAIR'S SECOND REBELLION ACTUALLY BEGUN.

The Morgantown (W. Va.) Post of July 25 says: We are informed that on Sabbath last, July 18th inst., a party of the rebel Democracy in Clay township, in this county, went to a church on Day's Run, where a congregation was assembled and engaged in religious worship, and after stripping themselves of their outer clothing burst open the door and cursed all Union men and soldiers who were there, and dared and defied them to come out and engage in a conflict. They were all armed, and swore that they were prepared to fight for the Southern Confederacy. They wore the rebel badge of red, white, and red, and declared that it was the badge of their principles. They carried their demonstrations so far that the minister, the Rev. J. H. Henderson, was compelled to discontinue the services, and with part of the congregation retired to the woods and concluded the meeting. The rebels asserted that they intended to carry out their purposes of wearing Rebel badges and that they could have two regiments of armed men, on short notice, to assist them. We learn that there are two lodges of Ku Klux, or other secret societies, organized under the auspices of the Rebel Democracy of this county, which meet regularly near the place where this affair occurred. This is the legitimate fruit of the teachings of such convocations as met at Barracksville, in Marion County, on the 4th of July, and of such teachings as that the Union soldiers are murderers. Indeed, it was openly charged by these Rebels at this church, that the Union soldiers were horse thieves and murderers. This, we presume, is the beginning of that Revolution spoken of by the nominee of the New-York Convention for Vice-President. Can it be possible that the Rebel Democracy mean to again inaugurate civil war throughout the length and breadth of this land? We are not prepared to think that any party was so far lost to every sentiment of humanity as to again seek to light the fires of civil strife after the bloody experience of the past few years. But it seems that the Union men must be prepared for the worst that if they would preserve their Government from the anarchy and ruin which the party headed by Seymour and Blair would bring about, they must return to the charge. We counsel peace and submission to law. The issue was forced upon the country by the advocates of secession in 1861, and the country met it with heroic valor. Once more they must meet it with a determination that this Government must and will be maintained though it cost a sacrifice of ease, and pleasure and wealth, and life itself. We say to all men who love their country, and who would avert the sufferings and toil and bloodshed of another war, to range themselves under the banner of the gallant Grant, whose words of acceptance are the anxious hope of all patriots—"Let us have peace." To Union men we say, be on your guard; be watchful; vigilant. Go to work at once to organize your townships more closely. See that every man is at his post. We tell you that all you value, either in personal happiness or the enjoyment of property, depends on the complete overthrow of this last effort of traitors to ruin a country which they have proved themselves unworthy to govern, and which they have openly sought to destroy.
